

SIDE BY EACH

SIDE BY EACH

Sail away... in a comedy about launching a boat, doing right and finding the perfect first mate.

Larry Bryggman (Die Hard: With a Vengeance) and Blythe Danner (Meet the Parents) head a cast of accomplished actors in this gentle and offbeat comedy. While lacking any violence, the characters entertain through their humorous representatives of an actual New England seaside community, and its plot of environmental degradation implicates us all.

SIDE BY EACH

“Side by Each” is a Rhode Island colloquialism, still heard locally. It originally referred to how cars were parked on Main St., at an angle to the curb, not parallel to it. But it’s now taken on a broader meaning and refers to any person close to anything or person in a special way.

Side by Each is a romantic farce filmed in the gorgeous ocean state of Rhode Island, with its humorous nautical characters. One is the philosophical Salty (Larry Bryggman), who just wants to launch his live-in boat and sail off. But crooks buy the boatyard and he needs to move to another, across the bay. There, he meets and falls for a marina artist and sailor, Daisy. Not knowing she’s one of triplets (all Blythe Danner), he gets involved with some of her shady acquaintances and it sets off comic consequences along the waterfront. It’s a charming world of crime and beauty where mishaps and misunderstandings abound. But of all the characters, only Daisy sees beyond Salty’s outward straits and into his philosophy: that the ocean is alive, our ancestral home and the source of gentleness that holds everything together.
