MUTANT VAMPIRE ZOMBIES FROM THE 'HOOD!

In the wake of a solar flare of unusual properties, a mismatched group of inner-city survivors must put aside their animosity to escape a Los Angeles now free of gangbangers, but infested instead with blood-sucking, sex-starved zombies.

In the tradition of Zombieland and Shaun Of The Dead

MVZFTH!

Two L.A.P.D. detectives, David Lang (played by C. Thomas Howell of The Hitcher, The Outsiders, and TV's Southland) and Jack Peters stake out two street gangs lead by G-Dog and Dragon Chin. Dragon has kidnapped G-Dog's girlfriend Latiffa and is exchanging her for drugs stolen from him. David and Jack try to arrest them and it erupts into an all-out gunfight.

Just then the radiation of an anomalous solar flare strikes the Earth and all are rendered unconscious. When they come to, the population of Los Angeles, and perhaps the whole world has transformed into blood-sucking zombies. The warring gangs and the surviving cop must put aside their mutual animosity and distrust as they discover what this frightening new world has in store for them. The medical warehouse their rumble took place in was lead-shielded and protected them from the effects of the radiation. They soon meet up with an old man with a rifle who was similarly protected in his basement. Together they must make their way across the city to the home of a scientist and his beautiful daughter who broadcast on local TV a plan for escape from the city and the rebuilding of civilization.

But first our intrepid band of mismatched heroes must survive a frightening array of mutated zombies, some who appear quite human and intelligent, and others with an insatiable lust for not just flesh and blood, but more carnal desires as well.

MVZFTH! features a soundtrack by San Francisco rapper Vital, and zombies created by the award-winning makeup artists behind Pirates of the Caribbean: Dead Man's Chest.
